Bennett Tells Parents How to Teach Children Essentials of Religion

Archibald F. Bennett, executive secretary of the General Board of Education, explained the feelings of attachment between child and parent in his lecture in room D. at 11:30 yesterday morning.

He continued by outlining a course in which the parent might instruct the child as to the worth of the church and the meaning and significance of baptism. He did not, however, advise any specific course of action, but said one should wait until the right psychological moment and communicate with the child.

Particular blessings and the importance of the "Book of Remembrance" were stressed as vital contributions to the development of faith and character in the child.

TRAINING SCHOOL PRESENTS EXHIBIT

By WANDA SNOW

Bookend, from Mother Goose chauvinizations to Old Testament drama, is on parade in the Brigham Young Training School.

The exhibits have been prepared and put on display, for the visitors on the campus throughout Leadership week, representing all of their work during this school year.

"No other one week, including the one before Christmas," says Miss Hermene Peterson, supervisor of the Training school, "ever saw an exhibition as representative of the work of the students as does the week of Leadership week."

Of particular interest to visitors, will be the picture story of the life of Christ, which was painted on the windows of the sixth grade room by the students of the school. The children did the work almost independently, says Miss Barbara Mawgin, instructor.

people, but he had a knowledge of the prophecies of the Lord had revealed it unto him; with this knowledge he strived for the security of the audience, the safety of the audience, and the safety of all the rights, privileges, keys, and authority pertaining to the apostlehood. In the name he gave unto these apostles the information that the time would come when he would give the keys to the Prophet, neither did the apostle of the Lord know when he would be present when speaking of his death and resurrection," said Elder Smith.

Elder R. D. Roppon said that the Prophet told him of the powers of Presidency with him, and that he being counselor should be the guardian of the keys.

A general assembly under the direction of Brigham Young was called to determine a leader. He said that the prophet was giving his claims. Then Brigham Young stood forth, he appeared as the Prophet and the people said, "Behold the Lord restored Keys to the Prophet, as far as we know."

Elder Smith said, "When the Lord restored Keys to the Prophet, as far as we know."

Someone Takes 3 Of Takeo's Treasures

Takao has been robbed. He came into the News office last night and told us that two silk handkerchiefs imported from Japan were valuable, and very rare, had been stolen from a case in the Foreign Art Treasury. He said that he had smiled his habitual jolly smile when he related this, but he didn't feel that way.

Although he is working his way through school, he is passing in his leadership ability and treasured art objects to help make entertainments here colorful and interesting. It would be natural if he felt somewhat re- quited.

A pair of Japanese silk socks were also stolen. Takeo asks that the three objects be returned.

The complete program given was as follows:

Symphony No. 39 in E Flat Major. — Moratti

"Adagio-Allegro" — Rossini

"Minuetto" — Male

"Finale" — Orchestra

Aria from "The Barber of Seville" — Rossini

"Intermezzo" — Rodeo of the Paganini

"Gavotte" — Gounod

Song from "Faust" — Gounod

namely, the celestial, the terrestrial, and the celestial kingdom. He said every person, no matter how wicked, would be resurrected through the power of God, and that the wicked explained that the most wicked and corrupt would dwell forever in the celestial kingdom where they would be compelled to serve the commands of God.

The honest, upright men and women who had led stalwart lives but had not received the kingdom of God, would be granted the terrestrial world. Those who had led stalwart lives and accepted the Gospel would receive the celestial kingdom, where they would enjoy the gracefulness and mercy of God.

Elder Smith stressed the importance of the commandments of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by showing that all ordinances that we experience in this life were regarding the celestial kingdom.

He pointed out the difference between immortality and eternal life by explaining that we have immortality with the privilege of associating with God added it.

He explained also the necessity for us to be true to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints but also to that inner circle, the Church of the First Born. He said that when we are baptised and confirmed we become members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints but in order to be of the First Born we must have the spirit of promise sealed to us in one of the temples of God. He closed by reading some quotations from the Doctrine and Covenants and the New Testament which stressed the glory and equality of man in the celestial kingdom.

Sauer Gives Band Party To Show His Appreciation

Professor Robert Sauer was host to all the members of the Bell Y. U. band Monday evening at Keeley's immediately following the band concert in College Hall.

Fred Weidner acted as Master of Ceremonies, using his gift for humor with good effect, and numerous interesting features were presented. Professor Sauer gave a short talk expressing his appreciation of the work done by a dancing contest. Prizes for the best waltz and foxtrot were awarded to Charles Metzler and partner, and Harriet Barnes and partner, the other two winners being eliminated which proved an interesting detail.

After dancing the guests were served a delicious luncheon. 100 guests were entertained by the band, Mr. and Mrs. George de Jong, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hattie, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hattie and friends, from Bell Y. U. The affair was one of the annual affairs presented to the band by Professor Sauer. —Y

FIDELAS ENTERTAINED

Miss Florence Miller and Miss Boyer entertained the members of the Fidelas social unit at the Miller home Monday evening.

Conference Rumblings

By MUSCLE BOUND

The main reason why the Cougars failed to win their division, basketball last year was because they lost three games where fortune frowned on them. However, there are no such games in the new schedule, and although they are mostly on foreign floors we are still trusting in those fighting Cougars.

Fred M. Oliver, sports editor of the Utah Chronicle, paid a visit to the writer Sunday after having viewed the new schedule. He expressed the opinion that his school was indeed fortunate in having won both games.

Mr. Oliver has taken the lead in sponsoring all-conference and all-district basketball, both football and basketball for the Chronicle, and it is with sincerity that we state he is surely capable. He has a pleasant personality, is very creditable, and all in all, is a credit to the newly profession of college sports writing.

Ideas were exchanged during the course of the interview, and the methods used by the two college publications sports departments, and many helpful ideas were gleaned. Fred, who has been a member of the Highlanders, is already devoting much time to the selection of a western division all-star basketball team which will be selected by the sports editors of the four western division universities, and which will be published in the first issue of the new student publications.

The football honor team that was selected last fall in this manner was almost unanimous in naming the recognized teams, and it will not be long until this collegiate selection is easily made. The sports editor, Fred Oliver was very well pleased with the fact that the respective sports editors were not partial to athletes of their respective schools, but that the unbiased opinions gleaned from games they had witnessed, and from comments they could justify, made.

The eastern division basketball race is in a turmoil at present with Oklahoma State, Kansas, and Missouri, almost atop from the plin- nacle by virtue of two defeats during the past week. Brigham Young played two pre-season games with Wyoming, winning one and losing one, and so in all probability this division is at least as strong again this year as that on the other side of the mountain range.

Candland Secures Master's At U. S. C.

Word has been received that Wendell Candland, a graduate, will be employed in his former department at the University of Southern California. He did this in only one and one-half years, despite the fact that he worked at three different times.

He has already received an offer of a position from a South American firm.

Tausigs, Cougar Errants And Vikings Win In Hoop League

Hettig Devises a New Point System for Inter-Mountain Basketball

The Tausigs, Cougar Errants and Vikings were in the lead of the winter social unit league after Wednesday's game by virtue of two victories and no defeats although the Vikings were guilty of giving up the lead in the first game to the Cougars. The Hydries for which error their point total will suffer at the end of the next.

A new system of point scoring is being worked out by the Hydries of Intramural athletics, through which a system of point scoring is used which will be in line with that of other sports. Fifty points are given for each unit entering a team while twenty points are given for each game won.

The Cougar Errants were victorious over the Nagards Monday by a score of 37-35. The Vikings, however, in another league game Tuesday by a score of 37-35. Vikings, characterized by their first half play, were strong again against the Cougars and triumphed by a score of 42-30. Seed Wanschle, the star of the Vikings, and one of the Mudholes, scored 13 points each while Wanschle of the Tausigs scored 11 with 11 counters.

Prophet Proposes Prom Patron

It has been proposed to the Prom committee that the following be made patrons of the annual Junior Promenade, which will be held Saturday, March 10: "Mr. and Mrs. John A. Callisters," "Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McDonald," "Mr. and Mrs. John C. Johnson," "Mr. and Mrs. John Halliday," and "Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haase."

The original plan was announced that they will be at home each day from four-thirty in the Art department, and that the students will be in class and constantly invited and constantly request that all members of the class call on them to their homes.

Cougars Go To Logan

This is the goal the church school athletes are striving for, and they realize that even if they can't win both games, they will still have a chance to defeat in the conference race as two defeats will virtually eliminate them.

George Young, veteran Agile guard will not be in the game on account of an injury, but Don Remson, his replacement, has been in excellent condition and probably a more accurate scorer.

The probable lineup follows:

U. S. U. State

Brinley f. Watkins

Hunter g. Parkinson

SALE

AT LEVEN'S TODAY

We could begin with the usual: our entire stock, but that doesn't mean as much to you as the usual fare. So here are Madras, broad-cloth, percale, pencil-striped and some of the materials "most" charming. The tailoring, the rainbow, is an example of the color range and the prices are—
